

HARRY'S BERRIES is a certified organic family farm located in Oxnard, California. Harry Iwamoto established the farm in 1967 and passed down the operation to his daughter and son-in-law, Molly and Rick Gean. All of their adult children are also actively involved in running the farm.

The Gean family is dedicated to growing ordinary foods with extraordinary flavor. They grow unusual, specialty varieties of strawberries such as seascape and luscious chandler. Harry's Berries are considered local favorites at certified farmers' markets such as the Santa Monica farmer's market pictured to the right.

Harry's Berries go from harvest to Baldor in less than 24 hours, three times a week. They arrive deliciously ripe, so enjoy them quickly.
