FEATURED FARM-EVA'S GARDEN | Located on the coastal plain approximately 70 miles south of Boston, Eva's Garden- like it's namesake proprietor is one of a kind. Eva's Garden began as a kitchen garden in 1975, with the desire to grow the freshest, best tasting, and most nutritious food. When the garden started producing more than her family could eat, Eva started selling to Boston area chefs and Whole Foods. She now grows over 200 uncommon herbs, greens, and edible "weeds" on her 3 acre plot of land that can be found on the menus of many famous restaurants in the Northeast. Eva works closely with her chef customers to try different plants and parts of the plants. At Eva's Garden, Eva is not limited by traditional expectations, and is driven by exploring different taste frontiers.
