

MONTCHEVRE, established in 1988, in Southwestern Wisconsin, is considered a leader in the goat cheese industry. A glance at their long list of award-winning cheeses supports this well-deserved standing in the industry. Montchevre has always hand crafted all of their products from fresh prime quality goat milk. In fact, they carry out a unique and natural farm program to motivate all milk producers to do the same.

In addition to creating a consistent, quality product at a value, these cheesemakers are very passionate about promoting and upholding sustainable farming methods. They keep the environment cleaner by providing an alternative to biofuel with their wastewater disposal system. Montchevre was the first goat cheese manufacturer in the U. S. to implement an Anaerobic Digester as their wastewater treatment. Respecting their environment results in a very sustainable operation, with a focus on reducing their carbon footprint. This makes for very happy goats, and delicious cheese!
