About Avocados From Mexico

There's a lot of passion and dedication that goes inside every single one of our avocados, and this passion translates into good times and great memories. Think of your favorite summer gathering, Big Game party, New Year's Eve bash, Cinco de Mayo celebration, or Fourth of July celebration. No doubt avocados were there too, amplifying the good times with guacamole and side dishes. In fact, avocados are so popular at parties and festivities that people across the United States enjoy more than 1.3 billion pounds of avocados per year.
