About Ocean Mist Farms

Ocean Mist Farms is owned by four grower families, headquartered in Castroville, California and has been growing quality fresh produce since 1924. The small town of Castroville in central California, with its warm, mildly misty climate, is responsible for 75% of the state's artichoke production and California grows 99% of the country's supply. Castroville, CA is known as the Artichoke Center of the World and the Artichoke has been named the Official State Vegetable of California!
