

THANKSGIVING TURKEYS:

Buy Now for the Best Price

Planning for Thanksgiving this year could prove to be a bit more complicated this year: Avian flu outbreaks have affected domestic chicken and duck flocks, and we're expecting to feel its impact on turkeys as well.

Our Director of Protein Merchandising Kevin Lindgren and his team have been working closely with our amazing turkey farmers to help ensure Thanksgiving goes as smoothly as possible. "In addition to having placed our orders in January," says Kevin "Baldor is mitigating the potential problem by diversifying our supply and ordering multiple turkeys from multiple places, so that if there is an outbreak in a region, we have other options."

Even so, as a result of the avian flu and ongoing supply-chain challenges, we are expecting turkey prices to continue to increase as we get closer to the holiday. So we suggest you buy now to lock in the best price.

Here are some tips for getting your bird at the best price:

Place your order as soon as possible to reserve your turkeys and lock in your price.

Place your turkey order as a stand-alone order. If your order is edited on a later date, the prices will adjust to that week's pricing, which may be significantly higher.

If you have any questions or need assistance with placing your order, please reach out to your sales rep or our Customer Service team. We'll be happy to help!

JOYCE FARMS - WINSTON, NC

Joyce Farms Heritage Black Turkey is an old breed, one of the first to be developed from Native American stocks. These lush birds are also all natural, raised without being administered antibiotics, growth hormones or steroids and eat a 100% vegetarian diet.
