

SPOTLIGHT ON: POTATOES

Compared to some of the specialty produce you put on your plates, potatoes might seem pretty ordinary. But they're a kitchen workhorse: incredibly versatile, a blank canvas for all kinds of flavors, cost effective (inexpensive with a long shelf-life), and easy to prepare, even in quantity. Whether you're looking for regular Russets or something more unusual, we've got a potato to fit the bill.

RUSSET POTATOES

All our GPOD Russet potatoes are Burbanks—they're a great choice for baking, mashing, and frying because they're high in starch, low in sugar and water content, and have great potato-y flavor. The flesh cooks up light and fluffy, and the skin gets nice and crisp.

FINGERLINGS

Fingerlings have a firm, waxy texture that makes them ideal for roasting or sautéing. The flavor can be buttery, nutty, and earthy. Fingerlings look great on the plate and are low labor: No peeling needed, and they can be cooked whole or just halved if large.
